

2010 RIVERSIDE SPEEDWAY
ROOKIE OF THE YEAR APPLICATION
$20.00

Beginning in 2010, it is the decision of the management team of Riverside Speedway, that the "Rookie of the Year" annual award will no longer be based upon points alone.

It is the decision of Riverside Speedway's management that there will be several areas of input that will be taken into consideration for this award. There are several qualities of a good race car driver that will be considered. Attitude on and off the track towards fellow competitors. Ability to work with speedway management and its officials. How a driver works with their own crew members, will all be taken into consideration.

A rookie driver needs to earn the respect from their division's veteran drivers. Veteran drivers will be asked to put input into the voting process for a rookie of the year candidate. It is the discretion of the Riverside management team when a rookie driver will be allowed to start in their regular position according to their point factor. The time period for starting in the back of the field will be two weeks for rookie LMS and Outlaw/Sportsman drivers and all other divisions shall be three weeks.
